Based out of Upper Marlboro, Maryland, Dirt Plus Inc. is a construction company that is family owned and operated by US Army Veteran, Anthony DeCesaris. Anthony entered the family business after his service in the United States Army. By 1993, Anthony focused on site work, demolition, and general contracting services to some of the most prestigious developers in the Washington D.C. Metropolitan area. Today, Dirt Plus primary services include land development, bond release, full site development, and storm water management. Most of their work is performed in Prince George's County but they also operate in Charles County, Anne Arundel County, Montgomery County, Calvert County, and the District of Columbia.

Anthony DeCesaris III will be representing Dirt Plus inc. for the TradePoint Atlantic Empowerment Academy. Anthony is currently in charge of acquisitions and development for Dirt Plus. Prior to working for the family business, Anthony worked for D.R. Horton as a land acquisition project manager. Anthony graduated from the Darla School of Business from the University of South Carolina with a dual major in finance and real estate. Anthony is extremely excited to be part of the first cohort for the Empowerment Academy and hopes this builds a long-lasting relationship between Dirt Plus and TradePoint for years to come.
