DrewJenk Consulting is a Baltimore-based minority business enterprise (certification pending) founded in 2023 that provides transformative leadership and boutique consulting services to corporations, government, and nonprofit entities. The firm specializes in helping organizations identify and implement the right technology, processes, and management strategies to increase productivity, efficiency, and long-term sustainability. Areas of expertise include workforce development, federal grant reporting, construction project management systems, program and project management, and nonprofit event management.

What sets DrewJenk Consulting apart is a client-centered approach rooted in integrity, efficiency, and innovation. The firm delivers tailored solutions that integrate technology, streamline operations, and elevate organizational capacity, whether through business process assessments, data analytics and dashboards, or change management and leadership development. By combining strategic insight with hands-on execution, DrewJenk Consulting equips clients to thrive in competitive and rapidly evolving environments.

Harold Booker Jr. is a distinguished tech leader, problem solver, and bridge builder with a career spanning clients from construction to Wall Street. He is the founder and principal of DrewJenk Consulting, where he leads projects for organizations such as the California Integrated Transit Project, California High Speed Rail, Clemson University, Creatively Black Baltimore, and the Greater Baltimore Urban League. Prior to launching his firm, Booker spent over a decade in the construction industry implementing software and change management for K-12, higher education, government, and corporate clients, including the first and third largest housing authorities in the nation, a billion-dollar transit expansion, and the Obama Foundation's Presidential Library.

A proud native of Beaumont, Texas, Booker earned his BA in International Studies with a concentration in Business from Morehouse College and holds certifications as a Project Management Professional® and Certified Scrum Master®. Deeply committed to service, he has served on numerous boards and is an active member of the Project Management Institute, National Urban League, 100 Black Men, and is a lifetime member of the Morehouse Alumni Association, NAACP, and Young Men's Business League.
